Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 24 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A cold day, with wintry showers at times.

Today:
A very cold, frosty but bright morning with sunny spells once any early mist or fog clears. Staying cold and dry into the afternoon with long spells of sunshine. Temperatures struggling to rise above freezing, especially in rural parts. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Cold with plenty of clear spells. Scattered wintry showers developing, mainly across western parts overnight. Widespread frost with freezing fog patches by dawn. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Monday:
Frosty start with fog patches, then cold with bright or sunny spells and isolated wintry showers. Drier into the afternoon and evening, but breezy along the coast. Very cold overnight. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Mainly dry but cold Tuesday with isolated coastal showers. Dry and bright start Wednesday, but rain, sleet and hill snow sweeping west later. Wet and windy but milder Thursday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.